

THE AUSTRALIAN COUNCIL OF STATE SCHOOL ORGANISATIONS

The national voice of parents of children in Australia's public schools and their school communities

New ACSSO President

The Australian Council of State School Organisations welcomes Phillip Spratt as the organisation's new President. Mr Spratt was elected at the National Conference held in Brisbane last weekend.

Residing in Port Sorrell, Tasmania, Phillip comes to ACSSO representing the Tasmanian Association of State School Organisations. In the past twelve months Phillip served as Senior Vice President of ACSSO.

The organisation thanks retiring President Margaret Leary for her outstanding leadership and direction. Ms Leary has recently been appointed to the position of Training and Development Officer at P&Cs QLD. The Executive of ACSSO wishes Margaret well in this new journey.

The National Conference was a partnership with P&Cs QLD and held in the Sofitel, Brisbane over two days, September 11 and 12.

There were in excess of 300 participants at the conference with a great number of keynote speakers including David Gillespie, regarding school choice and funding and Dr Stefan Hajkowicz, discussing world mega trends.

The year ahead in Education will be an interesting one and ACSSO is working to support our schools, our families and our students
