Celebrate World Teachers' Day

The Australian Council of State School Organisations, today, gives a shout out to thank the teachers across Australia in our nation's awesome Public Schools. International Teachers' Day on 30th of October is an opportunity for us all to celebrate the work of our teachers.

"This year has indeed presented challenges in the delivery of education – and as always our nation's teachers have met the challenge" said Andrew Bidwell, Chair of the Australian Council of State School Organisations board.

Moving from classroom learning to online delivery was no easy feat – but working together, many of those hurdles were overcome.

As parents, we entrust our children to the care of their teachers as they journey through their school education. Together, we work to enrich their knowledge and experiences -teachers are a significant partner, with parents, in the development of our young people.

As dedicated professionals, their care and influence can and does have a life-long effect on those that they teach.

As we all remember those teachers that made a difference for us, and those who are making a difference in today's students, let's join with the Australian Institute for Teachers and School Leadership (AITSL); have a bit of fun and celebrate the remarkable teaching profession and its bright future, perhaps share a group or solo photo in your sunglasses on social media.

Use #teachersday #thankteachers #brightfuture @ACSSOTWEETS @aitsl and share in the recognition

It is most fitting that a day, particularly this year, is set aside to recognise their significant contribution to our children, to our families and our society.
